TOTAL COMMENTS: 3

1) his expectation on hw are pretty high when hw is worth 30% of the class

2) Andrew is very good at math and his command of the subject is displayed during discussion. He has thorough command of the material and is able to explain complex concepts multiple ways. He is always well prepared for any questions and is available at crunch times before homework and exams. I really liked Andrew as a TA, and would have loved to have had him for previous classes.

3) very approachable and willing to help!
